e you just stepping on the threshold Secure a good moral character. This is the basis of success and true greatness. Without virtue, you cannot be respected, without integrity, you never can rise to distinction and honor. You are poor, perhaps. No matter. Poverty is oftener a blessing than a curse. Look at the young man who is heir to a half million. What is his standing? Of what use is he to the world? You must make yourself. The richest man in Maine was born of poor parents, and carned by hard work the first dollar he ever owned. The wealthiest man in Massachusetts was born in North Yarmouth, a small town in Maine, of parents who were humble in circumstances. By industry and economy, he became immensely rich. The wealthiest man in New York, and the richest man in America, was also a poor will succed. But remember wealth is not every thing in life-it is not man's chief good. A virtuous character is better than riches. Expect not success where firm integrity is wanted Shape your course by true wisdom, and let correct principle govern every action. In this way only will you gain the confidence and the respect of mankind. You know many a wealthy man, perhaps, who is despised by his fellow-citizens. Why is it sof On account of his aiggardly disposition-his lack of upright disposition and robust principle. He makes himself obnoxious to his neighbors, by his mean behavior and grovelling character. You had better live in poverty than imitate such a person. Riches, with a destitution of moral principle, would be only a curse

Theretas nothing like making a good beginning as you start in life. The foun-dation must be firm; then all will be safe. Have an eye about you, that nothing will reduce your virtue. No matter how strong the inducements held out for your countenance, if you see that principle is involved, do not for a right hand persist in wrong doing. Present gain, at the sacrifice of virtue, will be future loss and misery. Tens of thousands have ruined themselves by such a course. Be extremely careful then to begin right, and do your duty faithfully, and you will most assuredly succeed .- Portland Tribune.

A compound Balsamic preparation of the Pruaus Virginia or Wild Cherry Bark, combined with the extract of Pine, prepared by a new chemical process, approved and recommended by the most distinguished physicians, and universally acknowledged the most valuable medicine evey discovered.

We do not wish to trifle with the lives or health of the afflicted, and we sincerely pledge ourselves to make no assertions as to the virtues of this medicine, and to hold out no hope to suffering humanity, which facts will not warrant. We ask the attention of the candid to a fee considerations.

Nature, in every part of her works, has left in dellible marks of adaptation and design. The constitution of the animals and vegetables of the torrid, is such that they could not endure the cold of the frigid zone, and vice versa-In regard to disease and its cure, the adapta tion is not less striking. The Moss of Icelan', the Wild Cherry and Pine of all northern latitudes, (the Balsam is a chemical extract of these) have long been celebrated for complaints prevalent only in cold climates. Indeed, the most distinguished medical men have averred that nature fumishes in every country antidotes for her own paculiar diseases,

Consumption, in its confirmed and incipient stages, Coughs, Aethma, Croup and Liver Com plana, form by far the most fatal class of diseases known to our land. Yet oven these may be cured by means of the simple yet powerful remidies which are scattered wherever those maladies
